

Paonia is turning away from political strife and toward building a kind, civil, brilliant team – toward a future addressing real problems.

We are looking for a professional manager who loves all that is quirky, unique, wholesome and oh so creative about us.

BE OUR TOWN ADMINISTRATOR

Make a difference. Join our team!

Tooting our own horn...

Paonia is a town like no other, settled by farmers, ranchers, and miners. Home to artists, hunters, hikers, cyclists, and cross-country skiers. It consistently ranks as one of the “coolest” Colorado mountain towns, and that’s saying something!

Paonia is a hotbed of organic farming, sustainably raised meats, value-added products, organic hops, and a truly remarkable wine industry. You will eat some of the highest quality, cleanest food in Paonia – grown in Paonia.

The North Fork Valley is a “Certified Colorado Creative District” home to many creatives, including painters, jewelers, dancers, actors, musicians, and other artisans. And the Paradise Theatre and Blue Sage Center for the Arts. It is also the home of the renowned High Country News

Finally, if you ask anyone living in Paonia what they like best, you will hear they love this community. You will surely get a wave from local drivers when you pull into town. There is nothing quite like the combination of quirky fun, messy vitality, and whole-heartedness of Paonia’s people. Come join us!
